THIS BEAUTIFUL LITTLE CHURCH, with its massive simplicity, monumental tower and many other beautiful features, is regarded as one of the finest ecclesiastical buildings in the Dominion of Canada, and has attracted architects and students of architecture from all over the North American Continent.

It was built in 1903 and 1904 as a memorial to the late Hiram Walker, founder of the Town of Walkerville, and his wife, Mary Abigail Williams, by their sons, Edward Chandler Walker, Franklin Hiram Walker and James Harrington Walker. The church, completely furnished, with rectory, parish house and grounds attached, was given by the three sons to the Church of England in Canada.

The corner stone was laid on May 25th, 1903, by the Right Reverend Maurice Scollard Baldwin, D.D., Bishop of Huron, and the church was consecrated by him on Sunday, April 10th, 1904.

The architects for the church were Messrs. Cram, Goodhue and Ferguson of Boston, Mass., with Albert Kahn, Detroit, supervising the erection of the edifice.

The stained glass windows were designed and made by the late Harry Eldredge Goodhue of Cambridge, Mass.
